

Basic Detail Report

Lliqlla (Shoulder Cloth)

Date

Late 20 C.

Artist/Maker

Unknown, Quechua

Medium

Wool

Description

Large lliqlla (llicla), also called a manta in Spanish, that serves as a warm shoulder cloth but may also serve as a carrier for a baby or goods. Two panels stitched together decoratively with very fine multicolored triangle designs outlined in white thread. Maroon warp with stripes in green, yellow, orange, pink, and black. Decorative on all four edges.

Dimensions

49 1/2" L x 37 3/4" W

Object number

NLA1994.08.HOW